Florence Overview

Day 1

- Walk from SMN Station to AirBnB (near Duomo)
- Explore Duomo, Markets, & Shops
- Rooftop Dinner

Day 2

- Uffizi Gallery, Palazzo Vecchio
- Ponte Vecchio
- Pitti Palace, Boboli Gardens
- Accademia (David)

Day 1 - Fri 10/7 - Florence

Arrival

AirBnB - Via Santa Elisabetta 5, Florence (Check-in Time: 3:00 PM)

🚶 2:30 (approximate): Walk from Train Station to AirBnB (11 minutes)

We'll head straight to our home in Florence, after 14 hours traveling by planes, trains and automobiles.

Day 1 - Fri 10/7 - Florence

Exploring The Duomo

Entry is free, so take some time this afternoon while we stay close to "home" to explore the beauty of the Duomo from the Piazza outside, and the Cathedral within.

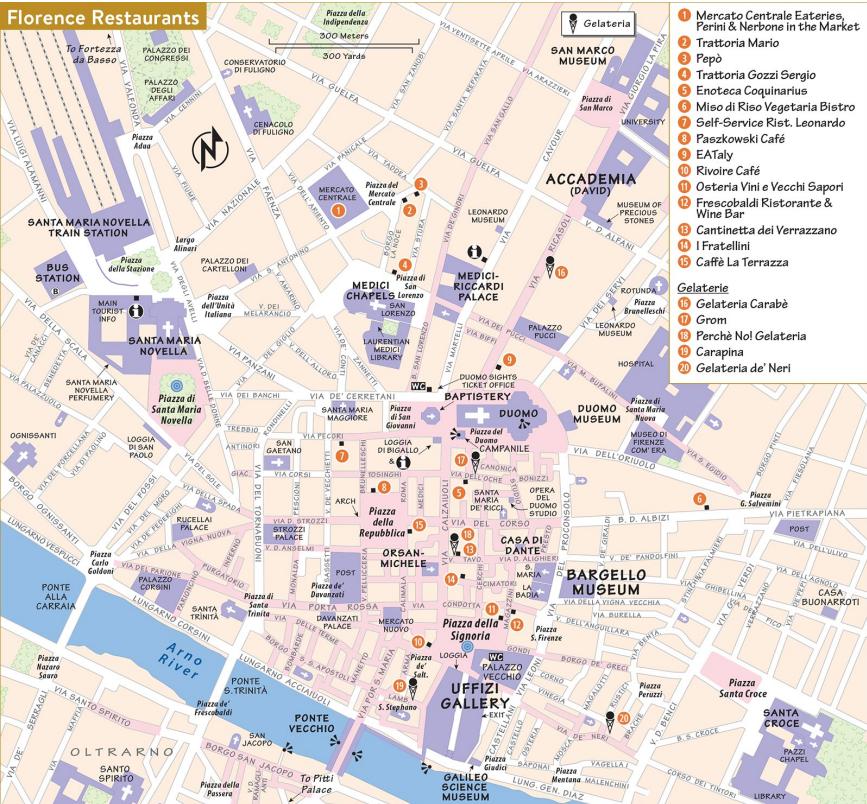

Day 1 - Fri 10/7 - Florence

Food & Shopping

If you're hungry, there are many options near the AirBnB including:

- Caffeteria della Oblate, a laid-back budget eatery a block from the Duomo within a library, known more for its outdoor terrace and a bright interior with views of the Duomo, than the food, which is basic but affordable.
- Mercato Centrale The better food vendor stalls downstairs close at 3PM, but upstairs there is a more touristy food court.
- San Lorenzo Market If you're itching to start shopping, step outside the Mercato Centrale and you'll find vendor stalls hawking all kinds of leather goods. Be sure to negotiate to get the best price!

We'll grab fresh food to bring back to the AirBnB for tomorrow's breakfast before our busy sightseeing day in Florence!

Day 1 - Fri 10/7 - Florence

Rooftop Dinner

Rather than pay for the privilege of climbing the 400+ winding steps to the rooftop of the Duomo, we'll take a leisurely "golden hour" dinner at one of Florence's rooftop restaurants

Angel Roofbar - Hotel Calimala (unconfirmed)

Day 2 - Sat 10/8 - Florence

Renaissance Walk

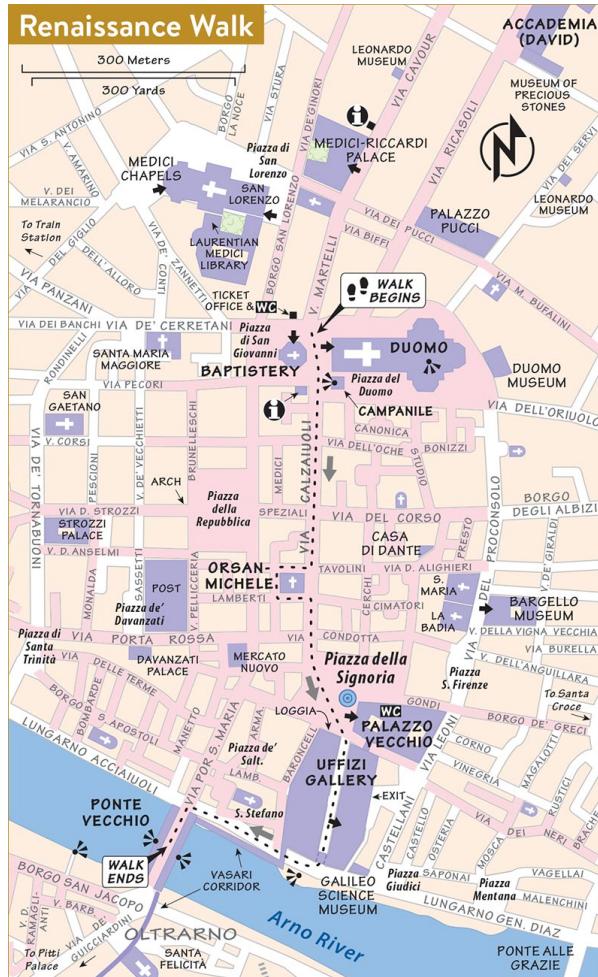

8:30 AM: Walk to Uffizi Gallery (10 mins)

This is the beginning of our whirlwind Florence sightseeing day. Fabulous examples of Renaissance architecture span the walk. If you miss one, don't worry, we'll follow the same route back.

Palazzo Vecchio

Walking down Via Calzaiuoli, we reach the Piazza della Signoria where the Palazzo Vecchio stands, once a Medici fortress, now the Town Hall and civic center of the city.

Day 2 - Sat 10/8 - Florence

Uffizi Gallery

9:00 - 9:15 AM: Timed Entry into Uffizi Gallery

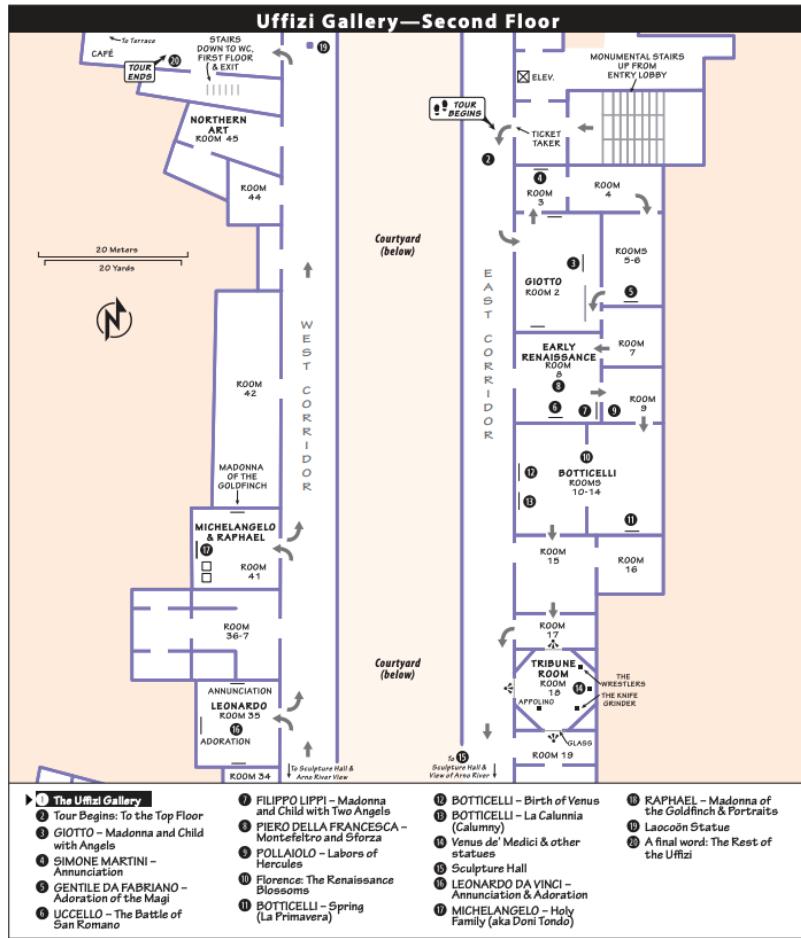

Allow 1.5 hours to tour

See the greatest collection of Italian Renaissance paintings in the world, including Botticelli's iconic "Birth of Venus".

listen to Rick Steves' Uffizi Gallery Audio Tour (MP3, 1:01:35)

Seeing priceless works of art makes you hungry, right?

Day 2 - Sat 10/8 - Florence

Panini at All'antico Vinaio

Lunch Option #1 Menu

🚶 10:45 AM: Walk from Uffizi to All'Antico Vinaio
(5 mins, allow up to one hour to wait in line)

If you want the best panini in Florence, you need to be prepared to wait in line for it. This legendary sandwich shop opens at 10:30, but the line is likely to form in advance.

The wait may last as much as an hour or more, but nearly all who visit agree, its time well spent.

🚶 Between 11:15-12:00 PM: Walk to Pitti Palace
(11 mins)

Panini in hand, walk down to the river Arno towards the Ponte Vecchio

Day 2 - Sat 10/8 - Florence

Ponte Vecchio

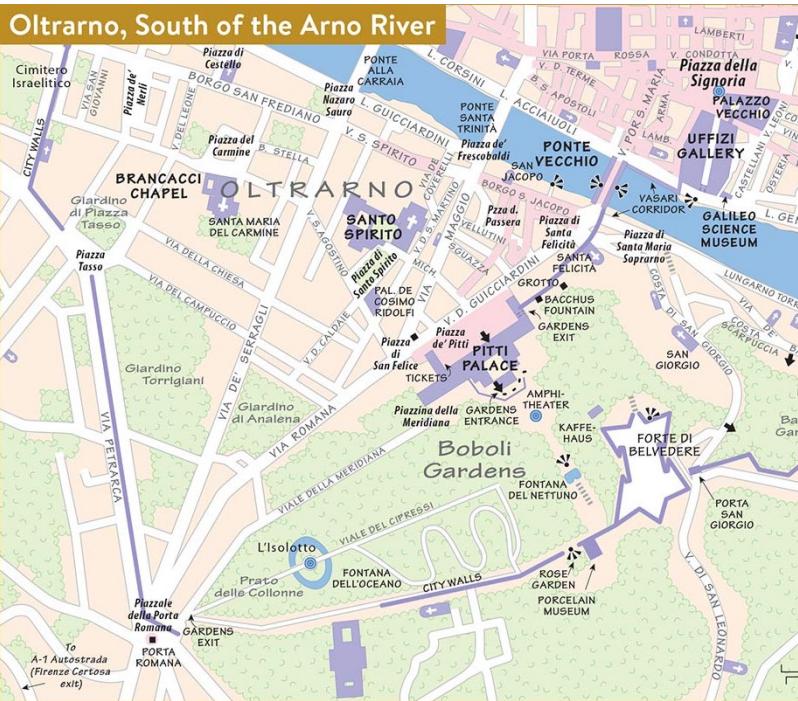

12:00 PM: Walk to Pitti Palace (10 mins)

We cross the romantic ancient bridge, built in 1345, whose shops were evicted of butchers and tanners by the Medici in the 1500's, to be replaced by goldsmiths that remain to this day.

Ponte Vecchio

Next, we'll cross into the Oltrarno, literally the "other side of the River Arno".

Day 2 - Sat 10/8 - Florence

Pitti Palace

► click here for Lunch Option #2

12:30 PM: Entry into Pitti Palace

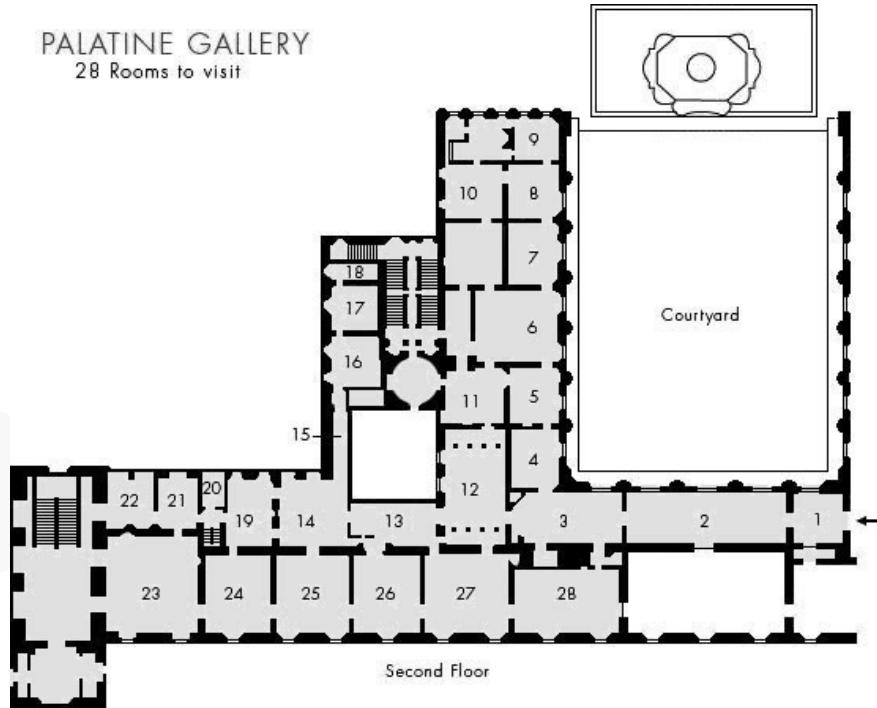

Allow 1.5 hours to tour

Palantine Gallery

Pitti Palace houses multiple museums and gardens. Here, we're going to focus on Palantine Gallery, which features works by Raphael, Titian, and Rembrandt.

Detailed Room Descriptions \(with pictures\)

PALATINE GALLERY
28 Rooms to visit

Day 2 - Sat 10/8 - Florence

Boboli Gardens

The gardens are vast, with sloping hills leading up to spectacular views of Florence.

🚶 2:00 PM: Explore Boboli Gardens (approx 30 minutes)

We may spend up to an hour here, or skip it entirely for rain or to make up time, or split up if some want to head back.

suggested walking tour

Day 2 - Sat 10/8 - Florence

Accademia

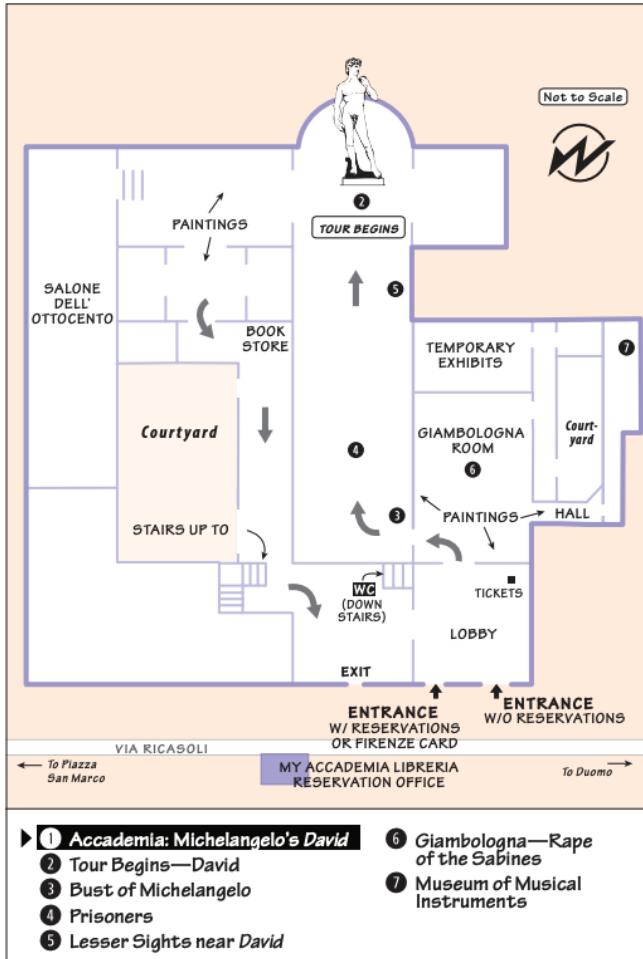

(Michelangelo's David)

4:30 - 4:45 PM: Timed Entry into
Galleria dell'Accademia Allow 1 hour to tour

This six-ton, 17-foot-tall symbol of divine victory represents the beginning of the Renaissance. The museum also includes some of Michelangelo's other works, and a couple of Botticellis.

listen to Rick Steves' Accademia & Michaelangelo's David Audio Tour (MP3, 25:11)

Day 2 - Sat 10/8 - Florence

Rooftop Dinner (unconfirmed)

The panoramic B Roof restaurant, formerly known as Terrazza Brunelleschi, is located on the fifth floor of the historic Grand Hotel Baglioni.

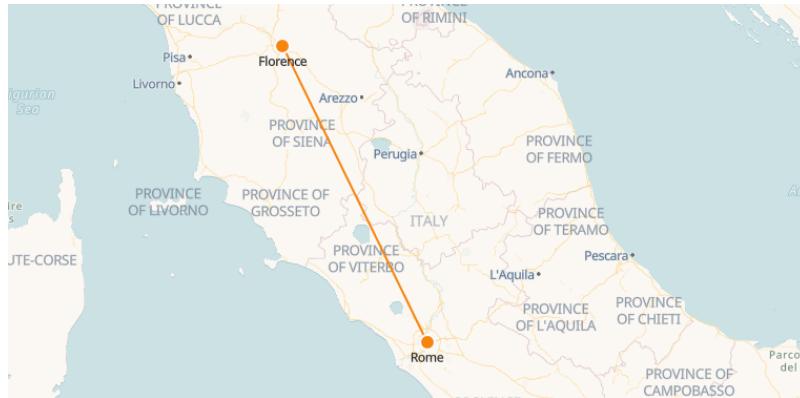

Day 3 - Sun 10/9 - Travel Day

Florence to Rome

It's time to say goodbye to Florence. Check-out time is 11:00, but we're going to try to get an early start for the trip back to Rome.

🚶 9:30 (approximate): Walk from AirBnB to Train Station (11 minutes)

🚂 10:00 - 10:30 AM (approximate): Take a Train to Termini Train Station in Rome

A bullet train runs from Santa Maria Novella Train Station in Florence to Termini Station in Rome.

The ride lasts 1 hour 36 mins, and the train departs every 15-30 minutes depending on the time of day.

Day 3

- Walk from Rome Termini Station to AirBnB
- Altar of the Fatherland
- "Heart of Rome" Walking Tour

Day 4

- St. Peter's Square
- Roman Forum
- Colisseum

Day 3 - Sun 10/9 - Rome

Arrival

AirBnB - Via Merulana, 94 int 6, Rome (Check-in Time: 3:00 PM)

🚶 12:30 (approximate): Walk from Train Station to AirBnB (11 minutes)

(our apartment is on the third floor)

We'll drop off our luggage at our home in Rome, grab lunch near the Via Merulana, and then head out for the day's sightseeing.

Day 3 - Sun 10/9 - Rome

Altar of the Fatherland

We'll walk right past the Colosseum on our way to the Altare della Patria ("Altar of the Fatherland").

🚶 2:00: Walk from AirBnB to the Altar of the Fatherland (30 minutes)

This massive monument, designed by architect Giuseppe Sacconi in 1885, honors Vittorio Emanuele II, Italy's first king, seated on horseback in bronze.

Take the elevator to the roof (€7) and be rewarded by a commanding view of Ancient Rome.

🚶 3:00: Walk from the Altar of the Fatherland to the Piazza Navona(15 minutes)

The expansive Piazza Navona marks the starting point of our walk through the heart of Rome

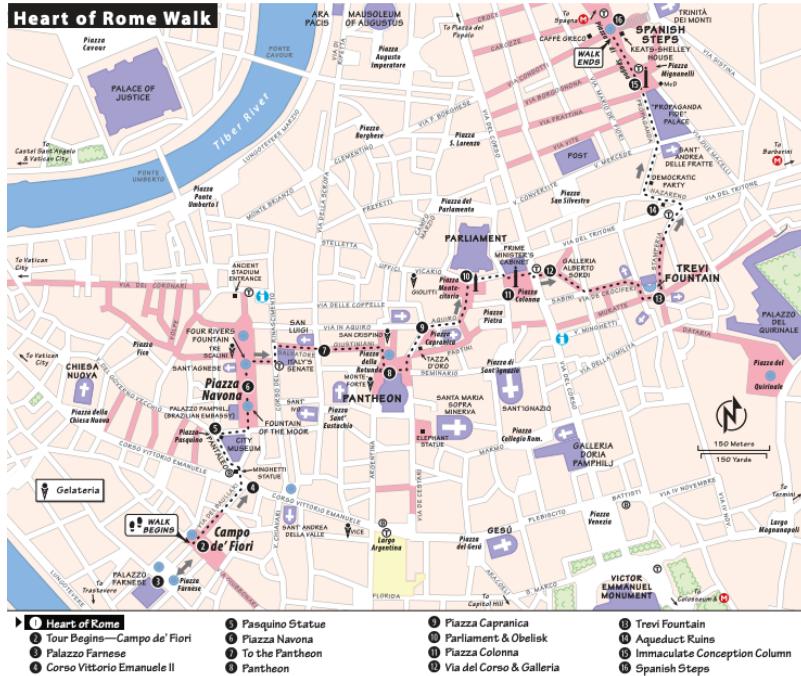

Day 3 - Sun 10/9 - Rome

"Heart of Rome" Walk

3:30: Walk from the Piazza Navona to Spanish Steps (30 minutes walk, plus stops)

This 1.5 mile walk takes roughly two to three hours, depending on how long we spend at each stop. It winds through the heart of Ancient Rome, ending up in North Rome, with sights including:

- Piazza Navona
- The Pantheon
- Parliament
- Piazza Colonna/Via del Corso
- Trevi Fountain
- Spanish Steps

listen to Rick Steves' Heart of Rome Audio Tour (MP3, 1:08:07)

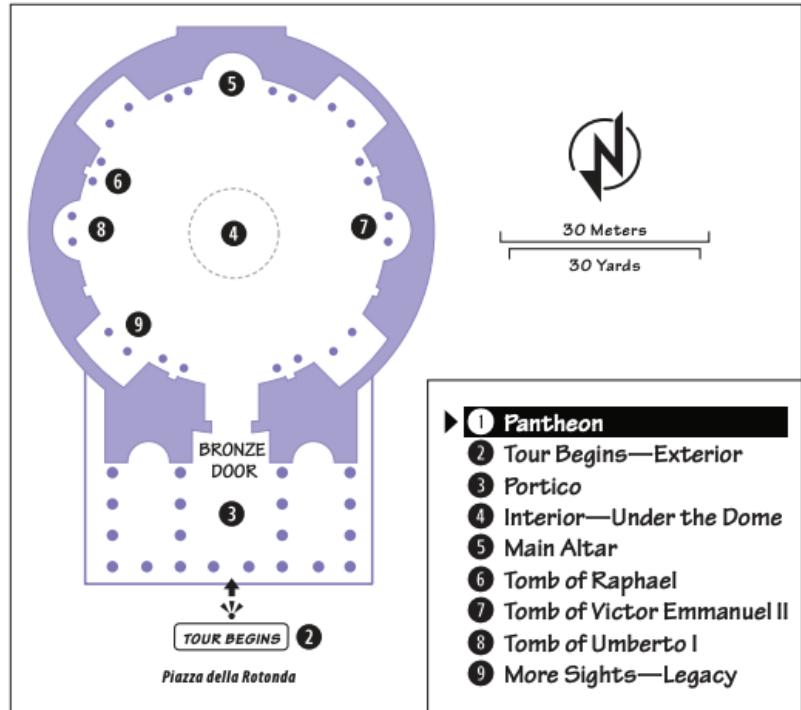

Day 3 - Sun 10/9 - Rome

Pantheon

The most magnificent building surviving from ancient Rome, The Pantheon began as a temple to the many gods worshipped by the early Romans. The building, originally built by the emperor Hadrian in 126 AD endured several partial and complete renovations over the centuries. Pope Boniface IV converted the temple into a Catholic Church in 609 AD.

(open until 6:00 PM)

listen to Rick Steves' Pantheon Audio Tour (MP3, 23:20)

Day 3 - Sun 10/9 - Rome

Piazza di Montecitorio, Parliament, Piazza Colonna

Walking from the Pantheon towards the Trevi Fountain, we'll pass through the Piazza di Montecitorio, home to the Italian Parliament, marked by an Egyptian obelisk from the 6th century BC, brought home by Emperor Augustus as a trophy of his victory over Mark Anthony and Cleopatra.

One block further brings us to the Piazza Colonna, home to a massive column, 12 feet across and almost 100 feet tall, that has stood since the 2nd century AD. This column tells the story of Emperor Marcus Aurelius fighting the Barbarians around 170 AD.

Day 3 - Sun 10/9 - Rome

Trevi Fountain

 6:00 (approximate): Arrive at the Trevi Fountain

Trevi Fountain, designed by architect Nicola Salvi in 1762, cleverly incorporates the palace behind the fountain into the scene as a backdrop.

We'll see the Trevi Fountain twice today. Once during the "golden hour", illuminated by the setting sun, and a second time after dark, lit up with lights, on our way back to the AirBnB after dinner.

If you want to skip the previous parts of this walk, and do something else for the afternoon, 6:00 PM is the time we should all meet up, before we head on to the Spanish Steps.

Day 3 - Sun 10/9 - Rome

Spanish Steps

6:30: Walk from Trevi Fountain to the Spanish Steps (8 mins)

138 steps lead sharply up from the "Sinking Boat Fountain", built by Bernini's father, Pietro, in the Piazza di Spagna. This fountain is fed by the same ancient aqueduct, the Acqua Vergine, that supplies the Trevi Fountain.

Partway up, the steps fan out around a central terrace, forming a butterfly shape. An obelisk, framed by two Baroque church towers, stands at the top.

This is where our touring for the day ends. We'll find a dinner spot in the neighborhood before returning to our AirBnB for a well earned rest.

Enjoy the steps, but whatever you do, don't sit down on them, or it'll cost you a €250 fine (seriously).

Day 14 - Thu 10/20 - Cruise Day 10

Amalfi Coast Tour: Amalfi Town

Our excursion starts by coach from the Port of Naples to the coastal city of Amalfi, where we'll spend an hour of free time. A short walk uphill from the Via Matteo Camera (the one main road in town) leads to the Piazza Duomo, and the Amalfi Cathedral.

A little further past the Cathedral, you'll find Cuoppo d'Amalfi, a fried fish shop that fills cardboard cones with all manner of deep-sea life

Day 14 - Thu 10/20 - Cruise Day 10

Amalfi Coast Tour: Positano

Next, we'll board a private motor launch for a 40-minute voyage to Positano, seeing the Amalfi coast by sea. There, we'll spend another hour of free time. The Church of Santa Maria Assunta was given a baroque makeover in the 18th century.

Thirsty? Walk up to Enoteca Cuomo and sample local red wines with homemade salami and sundried tomatoes.

Day 14 - Thu 10/20 - Cruise Day 10

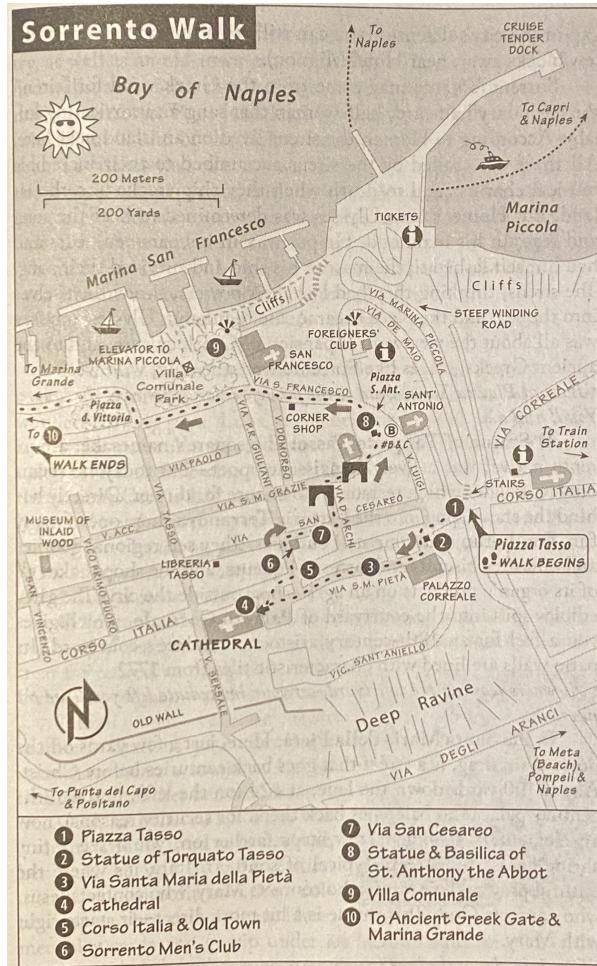

Amalfi Coast Tour: Sorrento

Next, we'll board a shuttle bus to rejoin our coach. The coach brings us to Sorrento, our final stop. We'll have more free time to explore, have lunch in a local restaurant, and finally board the coach to return to the Port of Naples and the ship.

The Piazza Tasso is Sorrento's living room. Just behind the Statue of Torquato Tasso you'll find Fattoria Terranova, a family-run boutique offering free biscuits and tastes of liquers.

A short walk brings you to the Cathedral, with its impressive inlaid-wood interior doors.

Continue on to the Via San Cesareo, where you can sample Limoncello and other lemon products, famous to the Amalfi region.
